Adelaida's organically-farmed estate vineyards are located in the coastal influenced Santa Lucia Mountain Range on the west side of the Paso Robles AVA. Situated on steep hillsides, these sites lie within the Adelaida District, a sub-appellation in the northwest corner of the wine region. With elevations ranging from 1400 - 2050 ft, limestone subsoils, and extreme diurnal temperature swings, averaging 45 degrees, Adelaida produces wines with distinct expressions of their site.

The winter months between 2020-2021 were cool and dry, with just 7.25 of rainfall and an average temperature of 51 degrees Fahrenheit. These conditions spurred an early bud break, followed by a moderate spring and warm summer with no heat waves. These conditions allowed harvest to proceed at a mostly predictable pace; the sugars evolved slowly due to limited heat spikes, and the acids remained high across all varietals.

These true "old vines" continue to produce gorgeous wine, showing complexity with grace, structure, and finesse that are the hallmarks of this noble grape. All are on full display with the fruit-driven aromas of black cherry, raspberry, and hibiscus. Along with these esters, we find earthy scents of wet stone, black truffle, and fine-grain leather, which will dominate as the wine ages. Lower grape tannins are found as expected from this thin-skinned grape, along with a medium body and moderate alcohol content. This leads to the captivatingly silky and elegant mouthfeel. Drink now through 2033.
